Are you running an organization?

Use our performance evaluation tools to avoid time and resource waste in your organization and ensure quick and precise billing.

DeskTime takes the manual work out of people management. Everything is automatic and just a click away, making HR processes smoother.

Are you managing IT operations?

Integrate seamlessly with your preferred tools, such as Jira and GitLab, to show how much time each project and task takes.

Stay in sync, anywhere

Improve team transparency and make hybrid work seamless with a time tracker built for modern workplaces.

Effortless time tracking

DeskTime starts up with your device and stops when you shut down. No manual input needed, so time tracking stays where it should be—in the background.

Smart employee monitoring

DeskTime keeps track of the apps, websites, and documents your team uses, giving you real-time insights without interrupting their flow or invading their privacy.

Fast and simple setup

DeskTime is ready to go and easy to use. Just install, invite your team, and start tracking productivity without a lengthy setup and onboarding process.

Senior User Researcher, Enterprise

"Desktime helps me stay productive and to limit time"

"I know that at the end of the week, I want not to exceed a certain number of hours, but I also set myself some productivity % goals (time focused on certain apps / total time). I have used it for more than 7 years."
